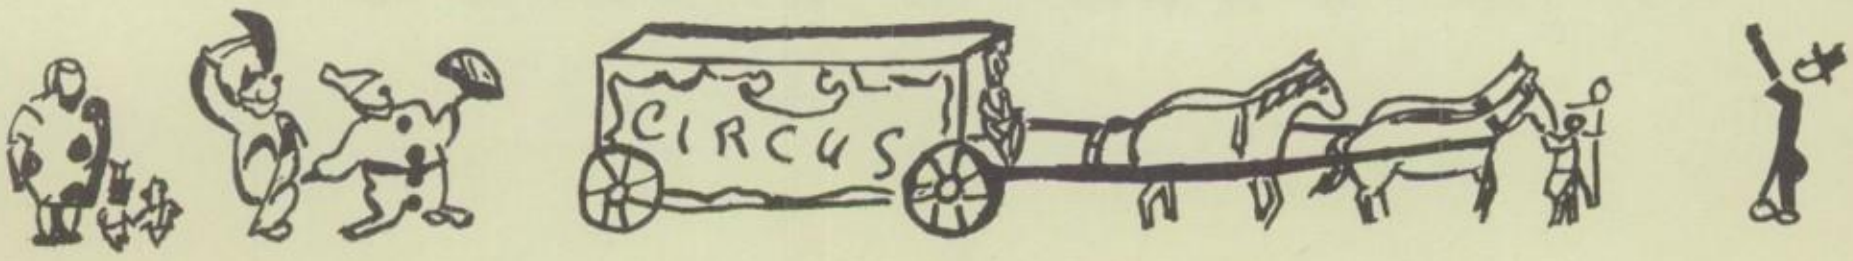
DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1951, dedicate the twelfth edition of the "No-Wa-Hi" to Mr. Gerald G. Hottenstein, as he completes his first year of administration in the North Wales Schools.

In the space of this one short year, Mr. Hottenstein has made for himself a very warm place in our hearts.

He has been more than a supervising principal. He has entered whole-heartedly into all activities and has set an example that makes for good school spirit.

We, of the graduating class, know that we shall like to return to our school to tell Mr. Hottenstein of the progress we have made. It is with this thought in mind that we ask him to accept this dedication as a token of our high esteem.



IN

The "No-Wa-Hi" staff members extend sincere appreciation to their advisers, Mr. McDonnell, Mrs. Handerhan, Mr. Petrella, and Miss Schafenacker for their combined efforts of cooperation and guidance in helping us assemble this twelfth edition of the year-book.

We are most grateful to Mr. McDonnell for his help in photography and to Mrs. Handerhan for her help in layout and typing of the copy. Mr. Petrella's advice concerning the art work was most welcome.

The success of this yearbook can be directly attributed to the wise counsel and constant help of these advisers.

CLASS HISTORY

As we review the performances given by the senior class, let's go back about twelve years! Hark! The sound of a bell is heard! This signifies our first day of school! Mrs. Lewis, our teacher, kept us busy this first year with a doll show, pet show, and the Christmas operetta.

Mrs. Kleinfelder was the ringmaster for the second performance. She marched us around the room in many a gay parade. Our class project was weaving wool rugs. We welcomed Anna Dilworth, Richard Cardell and Victor Jochen to our class this year.

How well we remember the multiplication tables and Miss Cooley in third grade! The mystery of the third floor was solved when we took a trip up there to see the stuffed animals.

In fourth grade, Miss Pierce assumed supervision of us. We had a task with our history and geography lessons.

How proud we were when at last we climbed the stairs to fifth grade and our next teacher, Miss Leister. She helped us organize our Audubon Bird Club. We welcomed Joan Scheeler, Michael Ackley, and Bruce Geyer.

In sixth grade, our act changed under the guiding hand of Mrs. Kutz. We put on new faces preparatory to going to the high school. We edited the school magazine, "The Beacon" and became members of the Safety Patrol this year. We gained Merle Bones and Marlene Beattie in our troupe this year.

Seventh grade at last! We pitched our tents on new ground for an exciting year. Changing classes was something new -- and needless to say, confusing. Sports consumed much of our time also. Mr. Benner, our homeroom adviser, spent many weary moments trying to keep us quiet. Barbara Jones and Neo Simmer were the newcomers this year,

In eighth grade, our class was reduced to twenty-six members. Under Mr. Royer's guidance, we wrote our first play which was presented in assembly. Minnie Walker and Molly Jean joined us this year.

Miss Connolly was our class adviser in ninth grade. What fun we had in history! Michael Ackley was our president. At this stop, Clarence Kratz and Arlene Kurian climbed aboard our circus wagon.

Our sophomore year was one of much excitement and gaity. We gave our first dance, "April Showers". We added a new subject to our schedule this year -- biology. Joining us this year were Dolores Leister and Janet Stanley. Mr. McDonnell was our adviser.

As Juniors, we were stationed in 102 with Miss App. The year's first activity was the Soccer Ball. The members were active in clubs, sports, and dances. We closed the year with the Junior-Senior Prom. Daniel Reiner was a newcomer this year.

At last we are seniors -- all twenty-two of us. We shall never forget the senior play, the Washington trip, and all the other wonderful things that befall a senior. It took twelve performances to bring us to Commencement -- a day we shall always remember!
